archKIDecture Build IT! Exhibit Opens at Evanston Library October 16

Evanston, IL – October 6, 2003 -- archKIDecture, an independent educational project that teaches kids about architecture, is pleased to announce the opening of its Build IT! Exhibit on October 16, 2003 from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in the Children's Room of the Evanston Public Library Main Branch at 1703 Orrington Avenue.

This exciting hands-on Build IT! Exhibit includes custom-made kid-size models of various architecture structures including a golden pyramid, silver skyscrapers and a straw-bale house. The Build IT! Exhibit also features other interactive activities for kids and their families including designing a tree house, decorating a skyscraper, making tessellations, and building a straw bale house. The Build IT! Exhibit will run until December 28, 2003 and is open during Library hours.

For more information about the Build IT! Exhibit or archKIDecture, contact Julie Cowan at 847/869-6363 or by email at jcowan@solidprint.com.

About archKIDecture

archKIDecture is an independent architecture education project that encourages kids to explore and participate in the built environment. Constructive interactive teaching brings Math, Art, Science, Social Studies and Literature alive through the medium of architecture. To be placed on the archKIDecture mailing list, please email jcowan@solidprint.com or call 847-869-6363. The Build IT! Exhibit and archKIDecture are funded in part by a generous grant from the Evanston Arts Council.
